The National Society of Madison Family Descendants

Founded 1987

Dear Larry,

I read your article "We need a new Constitution" in yesterday's Los Angeles Times. Thank you, I couldn't agree with you more! We've needed one for a long time. As one of James Madison's closest living relatives, I'm sure he would be amazed that we haven't had a new Constitutional Convention in 220 years. He'd also be amazed that we don't seem to have an individual around with the prestige of a Washington to help get a new one accepted.

While I don't think we need to rush, I do feel we need to move quickly. Perhaps a good place to start might be through Montpelier's Constitution Center.

In any event, I shall ask how the family can help in this when I'm there in November.

By the way, I'm glad to see that your article was published in the Los Angeles Times.
I hope more follow.

Sincerely,
John Macos
President
